

EUROPEAN PRACTITIONERS NETWORK AGAINST ANTISEMITISM

The European Practitioners Network Against Antisemitism (EPNA) is a professional platform that brings together institutions and individuals actively engaged in addressing antisemitism across Europe.

EPNA is dedicated to fostering collaboration, sharing expertise, and implementing effective strategies to combat antisemitism.

EPNA serves as a hub for professionals, experts, and advocates from diverse backgrounds.

We value the contributions of all members and actively encourage their participation, as we firmly believe that collective efforts are essential in achieving meaningful and lasting change. By harnessing the collective knowledge and experience of our members, we aim to have a significant impact on countering antisemitism.

While our primary objective is to address and counter antisemitism, we embrace European practitioners who are actively fighting against racism, right-wing extremism, and other forms of discrimination that share structural or practical intersections with antisemitism.

We firmly believe that practitioners fighting against antisemitism and similar forms of discrimination are in need of dedicated support and the strength of international and European networks.

Whether you represent an organisation or are an individual committed to the cause, EPNA provides a supportive environment where you can join forces with like-minded individuals, exchange ideas, share best practices, and develop innovative strategies.

Together, we can have a significant impact on countering antisemitism in all its forms by bringing together organisations and individuals from diverse backgrounds and addressing challenges of combatting antisemitism from multiple perspectives.

Learn and Understand

Our primary objective is to foster a deeper understanding of the challenges faced by practitioners standing up against antisemitism. By learning from each other's experiences and expertise, we can mutually enhance our efforts.

Build a Strong Network

We aim to create a robust and enduring network that spans across Europe and beyond. This network will serve as a support system, allowing us to collaborate, share resources, and amplify our impact.

Identify Best Practices

Through our collective process, we seek to identify best practices in countering antisemitism and to evaluate their potential applicability to diverse national and social contexts.

Enhance Visibility

Our network not only emphasizes internal communication at eye level, but also aims to contribute to expanding the public visibility of all our members. Elected spokespersons will make a crucial contribution to this.

Our network employs various strategies to drive meaningful change:

Check-Ins

Regular check-ins via zoom will facilitate open communication among its members. These meetings will allow us to share updates, progress, and challenges, fostering a strong sense of community.

Working Groups

To facilitate focused discussions and collaboration, we will organise working groups dedicated to specific topics related to combating antisemitism. These groups will provide an opportunity for in-depth exploration of challenges, exchange of expertise, and the fostering of collaboration.

Workshops

We will organise a total of five workshops across Europe, providing valuable insights, tools, and resources to enhance our individual and collective efforts against antisemitism. Travel expenses may be partially or fully covered by our travel fund.

Microgrants

The network will offer a microgrant programme to support innovative projects and initiatives aimed at countering antisemitism. These microgrants will enable bi- and multilateral cooperation among network members.

Conference

At our conference in spring 2025 we will bring together our network members with stakeholders from diverse backgrounds, European decision makers and journalists to present and discuss our findings.

Your active participation and contribution are integral to the success of the European Practitioners Network against Antisemitism. Here's how you can get involved:

Attend Meetings

You could engage in our regular check-ins and participate in our working groups, workshops, and conference to share your insights, experiences, and strategies for combating antisemitism.

Supply Information

Help create a better understanding of the social and political challenges you face in your work. Sharing information about your experiences will enrich our collective knowledge and inform our strategies.

Utilize our Microgrant Programme

Participate in our microgrant programme and develop projects that promote bi- and multilateral cooperation among network members.
